Rec. 5/19/82

Fellow Carvers:

Records are made to be broken, and if you were one of the 669 carvers who entered the "World" this year with 1739 carvings, you were part of that record. The "World" hosted 164 pro carvers with 425 entries, 304 amateur carvers with 725 entries, and 201 novice carvers with 589 entries. I observed a lot of amateur carvings that would have won in the pro class. I think it's time some of you guys reviewed your credentials.

There were representatives from 42 states, 3 provinces of Canada, England, and Mexico. The Eastern Shore was bulging April 23, 24, and 25.

I again want to congratulate all the winners, the great and near-great. There are no losers who enter this contest. The only losers are those who don't.

My sincere thanks to all the judges, the clerks, the decoy runners, and members of the Ward Foundation Board of Trustees, and members of the Ward Foundation, and to the all time great announcer and my co-chairman Fred Kreiser. There is absolutely no way we could put on this gigantic undertaking without you. I wish I could print everyone's name here for all to see, but space and the fear I would forget just one of you stops me. All are volunteers and they pay their own expenses to put this contest on for you, the carver, and to fulfill the Ward Foundation's commitment to perpetuate this art form. You can show your appreciation by being a member of the Ward Foundation and proudly display your gold goose pin for all to see. Only members have this privilege.

Knute R. Bartrug, Chairman
1982 World Championship Wildfowl Carving
Competition

Committee: Knute Bartrug and Fred Kreiser, co-chairmen. Jean Bartrug, Enid Kreiser, Carol Parish, Ted Crockett, Harvey Derby, Pat Derby, Rocky Bartrug, David Parish, Jeff Bounds, Bill Potts, Max Hughes, Charles Bounds, Jim Slaughter, Joan Phillips, Vince Schumacher, and Nancy Schumacher.
